WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP).—The Federal Bureau of Investigation released statistics showing that both the rate and the number of major crimes in the United States rose substantially in 1970.

Over the last decade, the FBI said, United Press International noted that the statistics showed that in 1970, on the average, the chances of being murdered, robbed, raped, beaten or burglarized...

Egypt Gets More Red Jets, Fliers Russia Reported Building Up Units

CAIRO, Aug. 31 (NYT).—The Soviet Union is building up the number of Russian-piloted jet-fighter squadrons in Egypt, according to well placed sources here.

are expected within the next few weeks. Each squadron here numbers from 12 to 18 aircraft.

At this point, most analysts stress the defensive nature of the Soviet Air Force presence, which was deployed to Egypt last year in response to deep Israeli air strikes that were threatening to undermine the regime of the late President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

More Planes Than Pilots For another, they note that the number of MIG-21s and Sukhoi-11s that have been shipped to Egypt since last fall, more than 150, bring the Egyptian Air Force up to 550 combat jets, far in excess of the 330 jet-trained pilots in its ranks.

Some here believe the Russians are engaged in a conscious policy of prepositioning aircraft in the event they should want to fly in pilots to man them in a crisis.

Senior analysts stress that they are not predicting that the Soviet Union is preparing for large direct involvement in any future hostilities.

Report in Thieu Aide's Paper

Saigon Hears One-Man Race Won't Jeopardize U.S. Aid

SAIGON, Aug. 31 (AP).—The United States has given President Nguyen Van Thieu assurances that his unopposed election will not endanger the future of American aid to South Vietnam, the president's official newspaper reported today.

The newspaper, Tin Song, is privately financed by a high-ranking aide of Mr. Thieu and is considered authoritative on matters related to the presidency.

Reporting on a meeting last night between Mr. Thieu and U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, the paper quoted "observers" as saying Mr. Bunker told the president the Nixon administration has no intention of cutting aid to protest the collapse of the Oct. 3 election here.

Dublin Charges British Troops With Incursions

By Bernard Weinraub

DUBLIN, Aug. 31 (NYT).—Irish Premier John Lynch said today that the British Army had failed to "control movements of their troops" along the border with Northern Ireland and that soldiers had made at least 30 "incursions" into the Irish Republic over the past two years.

Mr. Lynch added that the army's "infringement... could be prejudicial to the peace."

The statement by Mr. Lynch, who killed a young British soldier on the border, chilled Ireland's relations with Britain even further over the crisis in Ulster.

Meanwhile, another British soldier died in Northern Ireland today. The army said Gunner Clifford Loring died of wounds suffered Sunday when he was shot in the head while manning a roadblock on the outskirts of Belfast.

In London tonight, the British Home Office announced that an independent committee headed by Sir Edmund Compton, formerly Britain's public defender, will investigate allegations of brutality by troops and police in treatment of the 240 persons interned in Ulster under the Special Powers Act.

British and Northern Ireland officials had reacted angrily to the border slaying, charging that the killers of the 22-year-old soldier, Cpl. Ian Armstrong, had opened fire on Sunday in the tiny village of Courtbane, only five yards south of a stream that marks the border.

Mr. Lynch denied that the killers "believed" to be "soldiers of armed men" had fired from a woodland inside the Republic. His statement, which it had been expected would be conciliatory and express regret for the soldier's death, was terse and tough.

"During the past two years, the British Army has made some 30 incursions into the 26 counties (the Republic)" said Mr. Lynch, whose statement was issued from government offices in downtown Dublin. "These were brought to the attention of the British authorities at the time of occurrence and assurances were received that they were accidental and that stringent instructions had been issued to the troops to avoid such infringements."

"At about 1:30 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 29, a further infringement occurred when a British patrol consisting of two Ferret armored scout cars penetrated about one mile into the 26 counties."

To Avert Fund Cutoff Executive Privilege Invoked By Nixon on Military Aid Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (WP).—President Nixon invoked the rarely used doctrine of executive privilege today to prevent the Senate Foreign Relations Committee from finding out how much the Pentagon is planning to spend on foreign military aid over the next five years.

The President's action averted a threatened cutoff of this year's $1-billion foreign military aid package that would have taken effect today.

It also put the White House firmly behind Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird in the Pentagon chief's two-year battle with the committee chairman, Sen. J. William Fulbright, D., Ark., over the right of the executive branch to withhold information from Congress that legislators claim they need in their deliberations.

The Defense Department supplies military aid to some 46 nations. The program has taken on added importance in the last two years since under the Nixon doctrine the United States will supply increased aid to a number of countries on the theory that with stronger allies able to fight their own battles the United States will not have to use its own troops.

On July 28, the Senate committee— including Republican Majority Leader Hugh Scott—voted unanimously to invoke a little known provision of the foreign assistance act of 1961. This would have shut off all foreign military aid funds unless the Pentagon supplied the planning documents or the President invoked executive privilege and explained his reasons.

Mr. Laird had said that there were no "current five-year plans" in existence and that all the Pentagon had at this point were tentative and unapproved plans submitted by military advisory groups. Sen. Fulbright contends that such a plan does exist.

In a memorandum to both Mr. Laird and Secretary of State William P. Rogers, the President directed that no material be provided to the committee. He echoed Mr. Laird's point, asserting that "the basic planning data and various internal staff papers requested by the committee do not, insofar as they deal with future years, reflect any approved program of this administration, for no approved program for military assistance beyond the current fiscal year exists."

He stressed that "unless privacy can be maintained in exchange of the preliminary views of the successful administration of government would be muted."

Cuba to Cut Off U.S. Airlift After 1,000 More Refugees

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (UPI).—Cuba has advised the United States it plans to terminate U.S.-financed "freedom flights" of Cubans to America after allowing a final group of about 1,000 persons to make the exodus, the State Department said today.

It is believed at least 127,000 more Cubans want to come to the United States. The Cubans said the airlift will be suspended for several weeks while the final group is being processed, a department spokesman said, after which no further flights will be allowed.

The department official said that while he has no accurate figures on the number of Cubans who still wish to leave their country, it is believed there are far more than Havana is willing to let leave.

The airlift, established under an agreement with Cuba in November, 1965, has brought about 245,000 Cubans to the United States on twice-daily, five-day-a-week flights.

State Department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey said the department, which deals with Cuba through the Swiss Embassy in Havana, has "urged the Cuban government to permit the airlift to continue until all those Cubans who have asked to be reunited with their families in the United States have left Cuba in the airlift."

He said 33,000 persons who have registered in Cuba and been approved by both governments to make the flight have not yet arrived in the United States.

In addition, more than 94,000 Cubans whose names were submitted by relatives in the United States and approved by the U.S. government—but not yet by Havana—have not arrived in Miami, the U.S. terminus.

The airlift has cost the United States about $1 million a year for chartered airliners.

Court Rules Alaska A-Test Can Be Held

Judge Says Delay 'May Cost Us Liberty'

By Sanford Ungar
WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (WP).—A federal judge has ruled that the largest underground atomic explosion ever planned by the United States—scheduled for early October beneath an Alaskan island—will comply "with all relevant laws and treaties," and can go on.

Rejecting a challenge by scientists, environmentalists and anti-war groups, U.S. District Court Judge George L. Hart Jr. said that to delay or cancel the controversial blast, code-named Caninik and to take place 5,200 feet below Amchitka Island in the Aleutian chain, "may cost us our entire liberty."

It was the second time in less than a week that Judge Hart had ruled in favor of the Atomic Energy Commission's plans for the Caninik test.

Legal sources say the Aleut League, made up of Alaskan natives who live near the test site, will also file suit in the U.S. District Court in Alaska later this week, questioning the safety aspects of Caninik.

In the latest lawsuit to be rejected by Judge Hart yesterday, the Committee for Nuclear Responsibility and seven other organizations contended that the AEC had violated the national environmental policy act in planning the test and that the blast itself may violate the 1963 limited test ban treaty.

The judge also rebuffed the contentions of the environmental groups, including Friends of the Earth, the Sierra Club and the Wilderness Society, that Caninik will kill large numbers of sea otters, seals and sea lions, as well as destroy nests of two of the world's rarest birds, the peregrine falcon and the American bald eagle.

Insisting that the national defense aspects of the case were crucial, the judge sharply questioned Mr. Sive about the attempt in the courts to prevent nuclear testing. "Do you suppose a similar thing to this is going on in a couple of other countries in the world?" Judge Hart asked.

School Tax System in Calif. Favors Rich, Court Decides

By Peter Milius
WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (WP).—The California Supreme Court yesterday struck down an unconstitutional state's entire system of financing public schools, saying that its effect was to provide more money for rich children than for poor.

The ruling is binding only on California. But, if it stands up, its implications are nationwide. California's financing system, which is based largely on local property taxes, is the same one in use in almost every other state.

It has the same effect in almost every other state, too, producing what the judges called "wide disparities" in revenue for each child between rich school districts and poor ones.

About 50 percent of the school funds raised nationally and about 66 percent raised by each California district come from local property taxes.

Local Taxes
That the judges said, "makes the quality of a child's education a function of the wealth of his parents and neighbors."

The ruling was issued on a suit filed by private California civil rights lawyers on behalf of parents and children from several Los Angeles County school districts.

Similar suits have been filed in recent years in Illinois, Michigan and New York.

The Swiss obsession with punctuality: It finally produced the Eterna Sonic
At Eterna we've been obsessed with punctuality for over 100 years.
Finally, we decided that we should not merely concentrate our efforts on improving the conventional watch.
So we turned to electronics.
The electronic watch uses an incredibly accurate tuning fork mechanism. Which you don't need to wind up. And which hums instead of ticks.
Before we came along it was the most accurate watch you could buy.
But we went even further.
We added what we call a "flexon oscillator," which makes sure the tuning fork vibrates with exactly the same frequency, matter its position on your wrist. Which makes it that much more accurate.
Our Eterna Sonic will keep the same accurate time day out: less than 2 seconds variance a day.
